OUR MISSION STATEMENT

The Shrine of Our Lady Of Martyrs is a place of natural beauty and spiritual renewal. We are dedicated to the memory of the martyred Jesuits and Blessed Indian maiden who sanctified this hallowed place. Through the example of the Missionaries' courageous faith, which provides the bedrock of our devotions here, we strive to strengthen the faith of all who visit us. We will always be guided by our dedicated predecessors and our loving Father, so that these historic grounds may be a place of peace, love, prayer, and reconciliation, where each and every pilgrim may be welcomed with joy, and may leave here with a soul refreshed and renewed.

The Seven Gifts of the Holy Spirit

by Larry Gillick, S.J.

Wisdom: I was given a colorful blanket by a Jesuit from India who told me it was a symbol worn by particular wise men in a remote area of his country. I feel warmer when I surround myself with it, but not wiser. Wisdom is not a gift to be worn, but a sense that everything is a gift. It becomes a growing sense of what things are and what they are not. Wisdom is a way of holding things in tension. We might want something to be more than it is and it would be so good if it only could be, but we allow it to be just what it is, with God's fingerprints on everything.

Understanding: This gift follows upon the first. The English word "substance" literally means "to stand under". To understand means that the Holy Spirit is enlightening our minds about the consequences of our use of all the other gifts God has given us. Abuse, means to take away the proper use from what stands under its appearance. Misuse is "my-use" with no respect for God's design for the goodness of the object. The proper use of something is a great praise of the Creator, but we need this gift of Understanding to see better.

Knowledge: This is the Gift which assists us to know who we are and what we are to do. It is practical, that is it moves us to a gratitude for action. It is more than "self-knowledge"; more a grace that assists us in the awareness of our being in Christ and in our incarnating Him, or bringing Him into more visibility. It is the Gift which helps us know who we are in God's eye.

Council: This is the final Gift assisting the intellect or our ability to ponder and decide. It strengthens the mind to be able to look fearlessly at all sides, all the darker areas, all the unfreedoms and self-centeredness in our human struggle for truth. It assists us to be honest and aware of the various gravitational pulls of our whimpering flesh, prejudices, selfish inclinations and fears. This is the gift we are not so sure we really want, because we love our ways, our patterns of self-indulgence.

Fortitude: The last three Gifts are about doing the truth. There's many a slip between the cup and the lip. This gift moves us to a steady hand as well as a desire to keep on keeping on when we do slip and spill. While its root meaning is "strong" it is more about resolve, perseverance, and patience with our not being strong in our living the other Gifts. This Gift is the encouragement the parent gives to the child beginning to walk, "Come on, get up, woopsy, and try again!"

Piety: This Gift encourages a loyalty or fidelity to God and the relationship which God initiates and sustains. This Gift encourages us to prayerfully listen and reverently live what we hear. There are so many voices trying to convince us about our identity. Piety results from hearing who God says we are and living accordingly.

Fear of the Lord: It would be a funny gift from God that would render us scared and frightened of the giver. This Gift of the Spirit is similar to how we might walk through a store whose shelves are filled with crystal and delicate china dishes. Respect for the beauty, yet fragility would move us, not to fear the owner, but a love for the creator of these artworks. This Gift works against recklessness and disrespect for the Giver and Creator of all. If we have a view of the beauty and goodness of creation, and stand respectfully in front of them, then we stand in a similar fashion before the Creator of all this delicate art-work around and within us.

"They were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and they spoke of the great things God had done, alleluia." Acts 2, 4

Come Join Us!

Are you called to minister?

As we open the 2007 Shrine season, we are in need of additional ministers to assist in our liturgies. If you would like to assist us in certain areas we would greatly appreciate your help. Lectors, Eucharistic Ministers, and Ushers who wish to serve should contact either Fr. Murray (222) or Tom Ralph (225) at the Shrine office by calling 853-3033 and then using their extension numbers or by seeing them after our weekend liturgies.

Lectors proclaim the Word of God, Eucharistic Ministers distribute the Precious Body and Blood of Christ to the Faithful, and Ushers assist in the collection and helping those in need or who have questions. All of the ministers are greeters and ministers of hospitality as well. It is an honor to serve God in these ministries and one is always touched by grace through them.

"Overflow" coming July 13-15!

The Shrine is host to the annual St. Isaac Jogues Youth Conference, the premier Summer Youth Conference in the Northeast!

The Conference provides everyone with a wonderful opportunity to become closer to God, friends and community. God invites all youth to spend time with Him here in the beautiful Mohawk Valley each summer. Come learn more about the life and wonders God is offering everyone; He has amazing plans for all of us and the world is in desperate need of your gifts and faith.

The 2007 Youth Conference is called "OVERFLOW!" and will be held on July 13th, 14th and 15th. Check our website, www.martyrshrine.org for a link to the Youth conference home page, or call the Shrine office for more information.

Pope John Paul II and Cinema

by: Father George Restrepo, S.J.

Today, we begin a 4 part series, prepared by Fr. George Restrepo, S.J., on Pope John Paul II and Cinema. We will print the next 3 parts in subsequent issues of the Pilgrim.

Film Critic, Steven D. Greydanus, wrote in an article on the Vatican Film List:

"On March 17, 1995, almost exactly 10 years before his passing, Pope John Paul II addressed a plenary assembly of the Pontifical Commission for Social Communications, which that year observed another anniversary of particular importance to its own mission and to the Holy Father's heart: the centenary of the motion picture."

"Since the first public audience in Paris viewed the moving pictures prepared by the Lumiere brothers in December 1895", the pope said, "the film industry has become a universal medium exercising a profound influence on the development of people's attitudes and choices, and possessing a remarkable ability to influence public opinion and culture across all social and political frontiers."

"This openness to cinema in all its forms reflects the view articulated in the Holy Father's address to the Pontifical Commission. 'The Church's overall judgment of this art form, as of all genuine art is positive and helpful', John Paul II declared. 'We have seen that masterpieces of the art of film making can be moving challenges to the human spirit, capable of dealing in depth with subjects of great meaning and importance from an ethical and spiritual point of view.' "

"At the same time, the pope sounds a note of caution: 'Unfortunately, though, some cinema productions merit criticism and disapproval, even severe criticism and disapproval. This is the case when films distort the truth, oppress genuine freedom, or show scenes of sex and violence offensive to human dignity.' "

In our next article on Pope John Paul II and Cinema, we will present many of his thoughts and reflections on film from his November 19, 1998 address to the International Study Conference on the Cinema organized jointly by the Pontifical Councils for Culture and for Social Communications.

Safeguard the Common Good, Respect the Truth

VATICAN CITY, MAY 20, 2007 (Zenit.org).-

This is an excerpt translation of the address Benedict XVI delivered today before reciting the midday Regina Caeli with several thousand people gathered in St. Peter's Square.

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

I desire above all to renew my thanks to the Lord for my apostolic trip to Brazil which I undertook May 9-14 and, at the same time, I thank all those who accompanied me in prayer. As you know I traveled to Brazil for the opening of the 5th General Conference of the Episcopate of Latin America and the Caribbean. But before such a great ecclesial event, I had an opportunity to meet the Brazilian Catholic community. Many faithful came to the city of São Paulo for this occasion and especially for the first canonization of a native of Brazil: Father Antônio de Santa'Ana Galvão. I invite you to continue to pray for the conference that is taking place in Aparecida, Brazil and for the journey of the people of God who live in Latin America.

The World Communications Day offers another motive for prayer and reflection today. This year the theme is "Children and the Media: A Challenge for Education." The educational challenges of today are often linked to the influence of the mass media, which competes with school, the Church and even the family. In this context an adequate formation in the right use of media is essential: Parents, teachers, and the ecclesial community are called to collaborate to educate children and young people to be selective and to develop a critical attitude, cultivating a taste for what is aesthetically and morally valid. But the media too must make its contribution to this educational task, promoting the dignity of the human person, marriage and the family, and the accomplishments and aims of civilization. Programs that inculcate violence and antisocial behavior or that vulgarize human sexuality are unacceptable, and much more so when they are directed at the young. Thus I renew the appeal to the leaders of the media industry and workers in social communications that they safeguard the common good, respect the truth and protect the dignity of the human person and the family.

Dear brothers and sisters, the Solemnity of the Ascension of the Lord, which the liturgy celebrated last Thursday, in some countries is celebrated today. Jesus, risen, returns to the Father. In this way he opens the passage to eternal life for us and makes the gift of the Holy Spirit possible. As the apostles did then, we too, after the Ascension, gather together in prayer to invoke the outpouring of the Spirit, in spiritual union with the Virgin Mary (cf. Acts 1:12-14). May her intercession obtain for the whole Church a renewed Pentecost.

[After praying the Regina Caeli, the Holy Father greeted pilgrims in six languages. In Italian, he said:]

The fighting between Palestinian factions in the Gaza Strip and the rocket attacks against the inhabitants of nearby Israeli cities, which have provoked military intervention, are bringing about a bloody deterioration of the situation and causing dismay.

Once again, in the name of God, I ask that an end be brought to this tragic violence, while to the suffering Palestinian and Israeli populations I desire to express my solidarity and assurance of my prayerful remembrance.

I appeal to the sense of responsibility of all the Palestinian authorities that, in dialogue and firmness, they take up again the difficult path of understanding, neutralizing the violent. I invite the Israeli government to moderation and exhort the international community to multiply efforts for the re-launching of negotiations. May the Lord bring forth and sustain makers of peace!

Catholic Thoughts

Temples of the Triune God

St. Francis of Assisi was an ardent advocate of the doctrine of the indwelling of God in man. It enabled him to love every one equally irrespective of his status in life. One day he met a fellow who had no love for God. As they walked along they met a man who was blind and paralyzed. St. Francis asked the sightless cripple: "Tell me if I were to restore your eyesight and the use of your limbs, would you love me?" "Ah," replied the beggar, "I would not only love you but I would be your slave for the rest of my life." "See," said Francis to the man who maintained that he could not love God, "this man would love me if I gave him his sight and his health. Why don't you love God who created you with eye sight and strong limbs?" That is what Jesus tells us in today's gospel. If we love him because of the countless blessings he has given us by "keeping his words" he will start dwelling within us in the company of his Father and the Holy Spirit, making us the temples of the Triune God. ~ Msgr. Arthur Tonne

Pentecost Reflection

In our First Reading and in the Gospel we hear some heavy breathing. The "breath" that brought about creation in the Book of Genesis, is spreading out once more and bringing about a new creation, a new revelation. Devout Jews are gathered for the second of their three major feasts. The first being Passover and the third, the feast of Booths which is a thanksgiving celebration for the abundant wheat and grape crops. People from all differing languages are gathered and they hear members of the Way or of His followers, begin speaking as "in-spired". It is a second Genesis in which a second creation is to come forth. The Apostles experience the Spirit of God and they will be urged to speak in every land and every language to bring about the completion of the original "Let there be light", and "Let there be life."

Pentecost is a festival of the first fruits and in our faith tradition the first fruits were these early believers. They were encouraged to live it out, speak it out, bring it about and the "it" was the creative Word of Christ. Jesus enters the locked-up spirits of the frightened disciples and they experience some in-spiring words themselves. Regret is replaced with renewal of the relationship which Jesus initiated individually several years before. Now there is something new about the relationship. Instead of "Come and see", or "Come follow me", there is a sending and a going-out party. Jesus breathes the Spirit into their vacancies and invites their insides to go outside and create the new incarnation of Jesus.

Quotable Quotes

When we have once placed ourselves entirely in the hands of God, we need fear no evil. If adversity comes, He knows how to turn it to our advantage, by means which will in time be made clear to us.
~ St. Vincent de Paul

The Holy Spirit, the third person of the Trinity, is God, one and equal with the Father and the Son, of the same substance and also of the same nature. . . Yet he is not called the Spirit of the Father alone, . . . but the Spirit of both the Father and the Son.
~ Council of Florence (1439)

God wishes to be asked, He wishes to be forced, He wishes, in a certain manner, to be overcome by our prayer.
~ Pope St. Gregory the Great

I want to be only a poor Friar who prays...Pray, hope, and don't worry. Worry is useless. God is merciful and will hear your prayer...Prayer is the best weapon we have; it is the key to God's heart. You must speak to Jesus with not only your lips but with your heart. In fact on certain occasions you should speak to Him only with your heart...
~ Saint Pio of Pietrelcina

If it were given a man to see virtue's reward in the next world, he would occupy his intellect, memory and will in nothing but good works, careless of danger or fatigue.
~ St. Catherine of Genoa

"Follow Me" Young Adult Ministry

The Shrine is interested in empowering young adults, if anyone is interested and you are between the ages of 18-40 that would be willing to join a core team to do young adult ministry in an evangelistic style.

In 2006 Young Adult Ministry celebrated their 10th Anniversary in the US. The USCCB (US Bishops) started this ministry after discovering the lack of young adults in church and participating in church events.

We as a Shrine, have a certified Young Adult Ministry Coordinator. Anna Bodoh, Marketing Director, who is working with the priests to gather young adults at this beautiful Shrine.

As I did last year, I would like to invite any of you who have fond memories of the Shrine of Our Lady of Martyrs to write a short letter about your experiences here at Auriesville. I know that for the last few years, many of you have told me personal stories about the Shrine that has really impacted me. These are Holy Grounds and they mean a lot to many people. If you would like to share your memories on these pages, I invite you to send a letter to Anna Bodoh here at the Shrine or you can also e-mail her at Marketing@MartyrShrine.org. We will try to print as many as space will allow.
